

cleveland CG14 Camo

Key Feature: The popular CG14 wedge, with a vibration-absorbing Gelback insert and sharp Zip Grooves, returns in Boo Weekley-inspired camouflage.

What We Like: The CG14 is popular for its awesome shape, feel and performance, but it's the camo that makes this wedge more fun than any other.

Who It's For: Hunters, outdoorsmen—just kidding. This wedge may look like a novelty, but it's the real deal. Just ask the Tour pros with 'em in their bags.

Specs: Available in a wide variety of loft and bounce configurations.

clevelandgolf.com | $129

f2 Plus Series

Key Feature: Do we really need to say? Just check out that Face Forward Technology and the virtually shank-proof hosel to see the tech in this wedge.

What We Like: Its unique Face Forward Technology makes shanks a thing of the past. It takes a little getting used to, and the F2 performs best when the clubface stays square. Adios shanks!

Who It's For: Players who tend to shank or struggle with sand play will find the F2 to be a life-saving addition.

Specs: Comes in four lofts (52°, 56°, 58°, 60°) with either a steel or graphite shaft.

f2golf.com | $99

infiniti IP-3 Pro

Key Feature: A precision-milled flat face produces maximum spin and helps your ball check when it lands. It also has a clean, classic shape.

What We Like: Three holes drilled in the toe provide feel and balance, and its special heel grind allows you to open the clubface for shots that require touch. Swinging a wedge has never felt so damn good.

Who It's For: Better players who crave touch, spin and versatility when playing from a variety of turf conditions.

Specs: In three lofts (51°, 56°, 60°).
infinitigolf.com | $89

kzg RSS

Key Feature: An innovative notch-and-sole design that affords players the chance to open or close the club without altering its bounce.

What We Like: Its design and mirror finish are classy and refined. To be honest, we're afraid to get it dirty!

Who It's For: Low-handicappers who want a versatile wedge; and mid- and high-handicappers who need a club that will improve their short game. KZG recommends using a soft shaft flex for maximum feel.

Specs: In three lofts (52°, 56°, 60°).

kzggolf.com | Custom Order

mizuno MP-R

Key Feature: Its "workshop grind" sole provides advanced playability on square-, open- or even closed-face shots around the green.

What We Like: We're all about choice, and the MP-R wedges give us just that. We can choose between two finishes—nickel or chrome—and multiple bounce angles. Also, they have a classic round-head shape and CNC Max-Milled square grooves.

Who It's For: All players.

Specs: Comes in five lofts (52°, 54°, 56°, 58°, 60°) with a True Temper DG shaft.

mizunousa.com | $120

mizuno MP-T

Key Feature: A C-shape grind sole that makes it easier to hit a variety of different shots.

What We Like: We've always been a big fan of Mizuno's legendary craftsmanship, and the MP-T doesn't disappoint. Its rolled leading edge minimizes digging, and a cambered midsole makes consistent ballstriking a breeze.

Who It's For: Players who like the teardrop shape and superb feel.

Specs: Comes in six lofts (50°, 52°, 54°, 56°, 58°, 60°) with either a Nippon or True Temper steel shaft.

mizunousa.com | $120