GOLF

Superintendent's Sector

This winter we have decided not to overseed the fairways and greens of the golf course. As you remember, we did not overseed greens last winter. This allowed for a much easier transition when spring arrived, as well as better playing surfaces throughout the winter. This process will also allow us to remove all weeds from the golf course that have accumulated over the past 10 years. Come spring, we'll have an easier transition as the Bermuda grass starts to come out from dormancy. We will have better playing surfaces earlier in the season, as there's not another grass for the Bermuda to compete with.

We will oversee the tees and practice range, as those areas are more prone to wear and tear. We will use a natural paint to paint the greens and lightly paint the fairways and approaches to give definition to the course after the Bermuda has gone dormant.
