Thomson Selected as District Director for PGA America

Lincoln, NE – On July 26th, the Nebraska Section of the Professional Golfer's Association of America has selected Chris Thomson, PGA, as director for District Eight, which encompasses the Iowa, Minnesota and Nebraska Sections.

Thomson, head PGA golf professional at Wilderness Ridge Golf Club in Lincoln, was elected in July and will serve a three-year term as District Eight director. Prior to serving as district director, Thomson will act as district director-select for a year while training under current District Eight Director Jeff Smith from the Iowa Section. Thomson's three-year term of office begins in January 2012.

"I'm honored to have been selected for this position," said Thomson. "There are some exciting things happening with golf in District Eight, and I'm looking forward to working with some of the best PGA professionals and golfers throughout the district over the next few years."

The District Eight director serves as liaison between the district and the National Board of the PGA of America. As the District Eight director, Thomson also serves as a member of the National Board of the PGA of America.
